The Virginian 1982-1983

Take time to remember —
Who got you where you are,
Who encouraged your dreams,
Who shared in those dreams.

Take time to remember —
Your family,
Your friends,
Your college —
Longwood.

Featured Story

The Blues . . .

As we've just talked about a style of music that reflects and comes to our lives, "The Blues" are people. "The Blues" are us.

The Jocks, The Gamers, the guys, and the girls that shared Longwood are all "The Blues". We joy, your trouble, your dreams, and your laughter. It's a very terrible strike that binds us together at the future.

Longwood brought us together and the friends we made here keep us together. Sure we're small, but for most of us it was for that reason that we came to Longwood. We are able to be a number, a number, look, and usually an unknown. At least, here our face is familiar to many, our friends are many, and our memories of good times are many.

We are dealt with mainly on a one to one basis, first names, not numbers. Identity is an individual, and as individuals we are encouraged to grow emotionally and intellectually. We are challenged by our peers and teachers to expand our personalities and character.

"The Blues" table extends to all now and for the years to come, because our years here will live within us as memories and we all share in those memories.

Fall Semester

While each of us will remember every part of the 1982-83 school year differently, most of us will especially cherish those memories that we shared with our friends.

Do you remember . . . ?

. . . Moving In? When some of us were reunited with roommates and friends, while others of us were greeting new ones. When we all brought as many personal effects, posters, and nick-bracs to fill our rooms to make it more like home.

. . . Rush? Where we made friends for life, made memories that will last for life, and those of us that are GDI's still had a good time at all of the parties.

These two students find two different ways to pass the time before class starts.

Mike tries not to look at the camera, and insteads greets a friend coming in. (above)

Cross your fingers and hope that it lands on the line, seems to be her thoughts here. (left)

Do you remember ...

... Klowns? Life seemed to be getting a little bizarre when saw painted on "happy" faces, "sad" faces, and rubber noses on our classmates. Maybe college life was getting too rough, but then we realized that it was time for Oktoberfest and the students we saw were showing their "blue" spirit.

... The Paint Battle? Where after both teams were sloshed with paint, spectators were humorously amused, and were almost splattered with paint themselves, the reds were declared victorious.

... Ten Little Indians? Where the drama department thrilled and chilled us in the classic tradition of Agatha Christie.

Survival of the fittest, "But didn't my shirt start out white?". (above)

The Ring Ceremony is something that we look forward to for years.

Our 1982 elves share good times with one of Longwoods oldest traditions.

Do you remember ...

... The Catalinas? It was said that this year's group of swimmers have never been better.

... The Dance Company? Their first semester theme was animals. They continue to uphold the fine name that they earned for themselves.

... Renaissance Dinner? Where many of us were "wined and dined" in a atmosphere of beautiful music and colorful costumes.

... The Christmas Parade? Where the holiday spirit prevailed despite the spring-like weather. The long procession entertained us for more than two hours, "Look out Macy's!!"

... The Soccer games? Our guys are the best, Ask the opposition.

It's a good thing that this is in black and white, their parents wouldn't want to know that their hair is pink and blue.

Team Spirit starts friendships.

Our elves get through the parade with a helpful pull from a Farmville tractor. (left)

Determination and coordination are the only requirements. (above)

Some people have some weird hobbies, or maybe they are brought up that way. (left)

Do you remember ...

... The Rugby Games? We were sure the guys were having fun being mutilated and mutilating their opponents, but most of us enjoyed the sideline safeness.

... The Birthday Dinners? Finally we were served real food ... steak and potatoes. The only thing that was wrong was that everyone and their brother seemed to be ahead of us in line.

... The Sun Mixers? Where we danced, mingled, and relaxed to some terrific bands.

Finally as each semester draws to a close, we realize that although many of the same events are repeated every year at Longwood, the friends that we make and cherish give us the memories that make each year the best.

The Rotunda's editor, Joe Johnson, examines negatives for his paper.

The weekends that we shared with friends partying are times that we will always remember.

The bookstore has such a variety of things that we all browsed through it at one time or the other.

Editor's Note

This year, instead of the traditional division of student pictures by their class, we have chosen to separate your pictures by your dorm residency. There are problems with both ways of division. Separation by class isn't always accurate. Some of you finish in three years, some in five. Separation by dorm takes away one senior privilege or so we are told; however, we feel that while you are in college you don't experience everything divided by class, you live your years here for the most part with the other students in your dorm. Each dorm has its own comradery, its own personality. Your friends live in your dorm, why separate you in your yearbook?
